

OPEN CALL

ARTISTIC PROGRAMME FOR IETM AARHUS 2023

Performing Arts Platform is looking for a small number of performances with international relevance for the artistic program in connection with IETM AARHUS June 12th -14th 2023.

We are seeking works of various formats and scales that are directly linked to the overall theme of the IETM meeting, Environmental Sustainability. Works that in various ways challenge, reflect, provoke, shed light on, put into perspective or push the sustainable agenda.

The artistic programme takes place on different theatres/venues in Aarhus, as well as on outdoor/alternative locations (for site-specific works).

WHO CAN APPLY

The open call is aimed at professional performing artists and companies based in Denmark, Greenland and the Faroe Islands. The work you apply with must:

-)] have a direct relevance to the overall theme of the IETM meeting. We want a strong connection between the artistic programme and the meeting's focus on environmental sustainability and the possible role of the arts - and will have an eye for performances that reflect this.
-)] be internationally oriented; i.e. move beyond a Danish context and be accessible to a (predominantly) international audience.
-)] We also welcome a broad representation of genres, formats, geography, gender and ethnicity, which is also part of our definition of "international orientation".

APPLICATION

Deadline: Monday September 12th, 12:00 noon (cest)

Apply here: <https://forms.gle/GXM1pkhoBGPjfgbX8>

We accept applications in Danish or English.

In the form, we ask you to indicate a total price for performing the work. Please note that Performing Arts Platform does not co-produce or subsidise the development, other adaptations or rehearsals in connection with the restaging.

The applications will be assessed by a programme committee consisting of; Lotte Kofod Ludvigsen/Theater Director at Bora Bora, Trine Sørensen/Curator at Åbne Scene, Mette Bjærge/Producer at Musikhuset, Malene Catrine Pedersen/Producer at ILT Festival.

The meetings are led by programme manager Sofie Mønster. For questions regarding the application contact sofie@theplatform.dk

IETM – INTERNATIONAL NETWORK FOR CONTEMPORARY PERFORMING ARTS

Regardless of whether your performance is selected or not, we strongly encourage you to participate in IETM AARHUS 2023 on June 12th - 14th 2023. Also mark June 11th in your calendar, where you will have the opportunity to participate in various pre-meetings.

IETM – International Network for Contemporary Performing Arts is one of the oldest and largest international cultural networks, representing the voices of over 530 performing arts organisations and individuals in the field worldwide. In 2023, the meeting will be hosted by Performing Arts Platform in Aarhus. The IETM meeting on Danish soil is an obvious opportunity to network, create new relationships and collaboration opportunities in an international forum. You can participate both as an IETM member and as a non-member. Information about IETM AARHUS 2023 - incl. registration and prices, etc. - will be announced via <https://www.ietm.org/en> in the autumn.
